Ten Cents

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Two Points of View

It is little wonder the public is confused by what comes from Washington in the way of "information".

The President, as head of the nation, takes much of the blame but the communication gap isn't always his.

A good example is a pair of Congressional communiques arriving at this desk the same day.

They say opposite things and have been shortened slightly in the interest of space.

Here, side-by-side, is how our U.S. Senator and our U.S. Representative view the President's aid-to-education program:

From the office of
U. S. REP. LIONEL
VAN DEERLIN
Washington, D.C.

A House-approved education appropriations bill contains more than $20 million for school systems in San Diego County, says Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego.

The measure would provide a total of $4.8 billions for programs operated by the U.S. Office of Education, an increase of $400 million over the amount appropriated last year.

"Impact aid fared especially well," Van Deerlin said. This is the program to compensate school districts for revenue losses caused by the presence of tax-exempt federal installations. San Diego is entitled to more of this aid than any other county in the nation.

In considering the education budget last week, the House accepted an amendment adding $30.6 million to the $577 million recommended by the Appropriations Committee for impact aid. The resulting total represents an increase of $56.5 million, or more than 10 percent, over the $551.1 million allocated last year.

The San Diego Congressman predicted the Senate will increase the school-aid budget passed by the House. "The Senate usually adds from $400 to $600 million to the House version of school money bills," he said. The legislation finally enacted then is the product of a compromise between the two chambers.

Van Deerlin said a generous school aid bill would ease pressures for property tax overrides to finance education in the San Diego area.

From the office of
U.S. Senator
ALAN CRANSTON
Washington, D.C.

California schools will lose more than $17 million in federal aid next year under cut-backs recommended by President Nixon, Senator Alan Cranston (D., Calif.) warned.

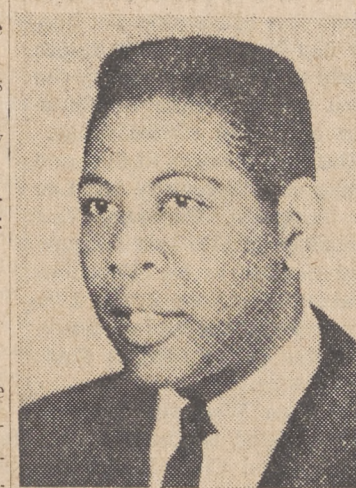

He told a Senate appropriations subcommittee that the "consequences of such a reduction could be catastrophic" and would affect "the educational future of hundreds of thousands of California children."

The President's budget request for fiscal 1972 proposes a $111 million cut nationally in Public Law 874 funds, from $336,068,000 to $425 million.

P.L. 874 provides so-called impacted school aid to compensate local district for the extra educational costs they incur as a result of federal activities.

California will have received $76,697,000 in such aid by the end of this fiscal year — 19 percent of total national appropriations and the largest share of any state, Cranston noted in emphasizing California's "great dependence" on the program. This would be cut to $59,668,000 in the President's new budget.

District OK's Applications For Funds, Hears Unification Reports

The Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees met Monday night and approved applications for funds under the NDEA Title III program and heard reports on unification and school financing.

Under the NDEA Title III program, the school district receives special funding for special programs.

The five applications approved by the board were for the instructional television program, and programs in math, science, social studies and reading.

More Rainfall Here This Year

The storm which washed out the San Diego Padres-San Francisco Giants baseball game Tuesday got to the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area Wednesday.

By noon it had dripped .74 of an inch on the area to bring his year's total to 8.89 according to E. J. Hayman, local meteorologist.

Last year on the same date he total had reached 8.08 inches.

According to Dr. Robert Sutton, who reported to the board on the programs, funding in the 1971-72 year is expected to cover 20-40% of the costs of the program. The district must match all funding.

Byron Netzley, Superintendent of the district, reported to the board on a meeting on school district re-organization held March 30.

The meeting included representatives from the County Department of Education, the County Board of Education, and the County Planning Department.

Netzley noted that five plans for unification were discussed, with only two that were considered to meet criteria. The two were the one-district plan, which is currently before the legislature, and a two-district plan, dividing the Grossmont area into north and south sections.

Netzley added that, unless an alternate plan is submitted before February of 1972, the one-district plan will go on the ballot in June of 1972.

Sutton cited the program as a possible vehicle for replacing a program now in effect by which films for educational use are ordered from the county. Sutton said that by using the receivers and recorders the program could expand, allowing one film to be used by several different schools at the same time.

In order for the district to participate in the program, it pays $1.70 per pupil, but is reimbursed 50 cents per pupil

If anything, voters will have too many choices when they go to the polls Tuesday to vote for trustees in various districts in this area.

As usual, polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The County Registrar of Voters office said Tuesday that there appears no more than normal interest in this election which has attracted 39 candidates for ten posts.

A surprising large list of candidates, 17 in all, filed for the Grossmont Union High School District Board. Several said privately that compelling force was the belief that there would be too few candidates. To back up this idea there was a flurry of candidates just prior to deadline.

Elementary school districts — the districts closest to the heart of the voter, has a hearty list of candidates, too. Our choice, for whatever reason, is in bold face type. This is done for the benefit of those who are seeking guidance. It should be pointed out that there are no bad candidates, so far as known so it is not likely that voters will be making serious mistakes whomever he chooses.

In the Lemon Grove District Ralph Barnhill, engineer; JAMES DORMAN, attorney, and HENRY REINECKE, engineer, appear on the ballot.

Nine persons have filed for candidacy for two seats on the Grossmont Community College District Board. They are:

Dixon Succeeds Hensley As Fire Chief in L.G.

Fred Dixon, assistant chief of the Lemon Grove Fire Department has been appointed Fire Chief, replacing Harold "Pappy" Hensley.

The appointment was made Monday night at the regular meeting of the directors after Chief Hensley submitted a letter asking that his retirement be made effective June 30. He has served the department 20 years; 18 years as chief. He will receive full retirement pay. At present, he is on vacation.

Also approved was the disability retirement of Fire Captain Harry Alexander. He has been with the department since 1949. His retirement becomes effective May 1.

Because of retirements, and the death of Capt. Leon Anderson on April 4, reorganization of the department is under way. The post of assistant fire chief will be abolished and PORTIA GOODE, incumbent and president of the board, of El Cajon; Kenneth Joerden, mechanic, of El Cajon; Harold R. Glaeser, financial consultant, of El Cajon; and Adela Hatherill, mother, of route 1, box 42, Jamul.

Also, Dale A. Burke, dentist, of El Cajon; Le Roy Pyles, contract mgr., of El Cajon; Samuel Sloan, optometrist, of Lakeside; Fred Stevers, USAF-R, of El Cajon; and DONALD MELOCHE, attorney, of El Cajon.

Seventeen candidates have filed for two seats on the Grossmont Union High School Board. They are:

George Darrell Ochs, air traffic specialist, of Spring Valley; Duane G. Norton, firefighter, of Jamul; and A. R. Payseno, businessman, of Dulzura.

Others are John Hanson, administrator of a college foundation.

LG Fire Report

The Lemon Grove Fire Department, for the week of Apr. 5-12, answered five fire calls and three rescue calls.

Heading the fire calls was a house at 1555 Angelus St., which had approximately $500 damage to a couch, which neighbors carried into the yard, as the occupants were not at home.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

An interesting feature about translating Spanish to English, or vice versa, is that one can not always use the dictionary on a word for word basis. Rather, one has to exercise some versatility in adapting periphrastic or indirect meanings to arrive at a related meaning. For example, "dar" means "to give." But for us to say phrases like "to give away," "to give back," "to give in," and "to give up," we must use words that are indirectly related to "dar."

"Regular" means "to give" in the sense of "to give away" or "to present." We may use "regular" to express "I am going to give away those clothes." (Voy a regular esa ropa.) We might also say "Vamos a regular a usted mucho dinero," for "We are going to present you with a lot of money."

"Devolver" suggests "to give turn." Thus we may say "El back" in the concept of "to return" as a devolver el dinero." with the meaning "He is going to give back the money," or more specifically, "He is going to return the money."

"Ceder" offers another way to say "to give" in the sense of "to give in." The third person singular of this verb may be seen in "El no cede facilmente," which means "He doesn't give in easily." We also use the first person singular form to express "Generalmente yo cedo," for "I generally give in."

"Repartir" signifies "to give out" as one might "give out tickets," "give out grades," or "give out cards." We may use this word in the expression "Tengo que repartir las barajas," for "I have to give out the cards." Another example is seen in "El profesor tiene que repartir calificaciones," which means "The teacher has to give out the grades."

You may enjoy learning the following short phrases. A recorded voice will say them for you when you dial 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "Vamos a regular la ropa." (VAH-mohs a reh-gah-LAHR lah ROH-pah) for "We are going to give away the clothes." Say "El va a regular mucho dinero." (ehl vah ah reh-gah-LAHR MOO-cho dee-neh-roh) for "He is going to give away a lot of money."

USEFUL PHRASES:

Say "Cede usted facilmente?" (SEHD-deh oo-STEHD fah-seel-MEHN-teh) for "Do you give in easily?" Say "No cedo facilmente." (noh SEHD-doh fah-seel-MEHN-teh) for "I don't give in easily."

OTHER PHRASES:

Say "Quien reparte las calificaciones?" (kee-EHN reh-PAHR-teh lahs kah-lec-fee-kah-see-OH-nehs) for "Who gives out the grades?" Say "La profesora." (lah proh-feh-SOH-rah) for "The teacher."

An estimated 1,200,000 Americans now living have survived a stroke, and many are back at work, your San Diego County Heart Association says.

Q I am a college student and earned $1,100 from my summer job last year. Do I still have to file a return?

A If you are single and your gross income is under $1,700 or you are married with combined gross income of less than $2,300, you generally do not have to file a return. But if you had income tax withheld from your pay, you must file a return in order to get your refund.

Q Are there any special tax benefits for blind taxpayers?

A Yes. An additional $625 exemption is allowed for a taxpayer's blindness. The extra $625 exemption is also allowed if the taxpayer's spouse is blind. The exemption may be established by attaching a statement to the return to that effect. Blind taxpayers also may be entitled to certain medical expense deductions, such as a deduction for the maintenance of a "Guide" dog.

Q Can I deduct the sales tax on the car I purchased last year?

A Yes, you can deduct the sales tax on your car in addition to the amount allowed on the optional state sales tax tables in the back of your income tax return package.

Q I filed my Federal income tax return, but have not received my refund. When will I get it?

A If your return is complete and accurate, you should have your refund within 4-6 weeks from the day you filed. Should your refund be delayed beyond this period, wait 10 weeks from the date of filing your return before contacting the IRS about it. This will allow time for any notice to reach you if the IRS has to contact you about errors in your return such as those in arithmetic and missing Social Security numbers, W-2's or schedules.

Q Can I claim my foster child as a dependent?

A Yes. For tax purposes, a foster child is now treated the same as a natural or adopted child. This means that you are entitled to claim a $625 dependency exemption for your foster child if: (1) you furnished over half of his total support (2) he made less than $825 (this income limitation does not apply if he was under 19 years of age at year end or was a full-time student during five months of the year), (3) he is a U. S. citizen or resident, or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Panama Canal Zone or the Republic of Panama, for some part of the year, and (4) he has not filed a joint return with his spouse.

Q My employer continued to pay me while I was sick in the hospital for several months last year. Is this money taxable?

A You can exclude from income amounts you received under a wage continuation plan for periods you were absent from work because of sickness or injury subject to certain limitations. Form 2440 explains these limitations and shows you how to compute your sick pay exclusion. The form can be obtained from your local IRS office.

Q My wife and I are filing separate returns. Can I itemize while she takes the standard deduction?

A No. On separate returns, each must use the same method of handling deductions. If one of you itemizes, then both must itemize deductions.

Q Whom should I make my check payable to if I owe taxes?

A Make check payable to the Internal Revenue Service. Put your Social Security number and what the payment is for on the check so that it can be identified should it become separated from your return during processing.

Elementary Institute Of Science Gets Aid

A grant of $5,000 to the Elementary Institute of Science, 608 51st st., was presented to Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, administrative assistant yesterday by Dr. Hal H. Ramsey, regional director of the Research Corporation, a national foundation dedicated to the advancement of science.

The grant will enable the Elementary Institute of Science, a non-profit corporation, to continue with its program of out-of-school science education for young people of the county.

The Elementary Institute, which began seven years ago as an after-school science club, now operates a science laboratory center at the intersection of Market and Euclid sts., which is open six days a week. "The Institute is, in effect, a little league of science," Mrs. Thompson said. "We encourage age children to play the game of science with intensity and dedication by taking advantage of their own curiosity and enthusiasm for science."

Children, ages eight through twelve, meet at the Institute after school Tuesday through Friday from October through August for science instruction in small lab groups. Each Saturday they participate in a field trip to some site of scientific interest. A secondary program for older children meets one evening a week and adult classes in various fields are open to parents on request.

With the grant the Research Corporation has become one of three largest contributors to the Institute's funding. The Rosenberg Foundation of San Francisco has contributed major sums each year since 1968. An anonymous contributor has also provided $5,000 for support of activities.

Mt. Miguel Baseballers Advance To Semi-Finals, Lose to Hilltop

The Mount Miguel High School baseball team, taking a week off from regular league play, competed in the Lions Invitational Tournament last week, advancing to the semi-finals before being eliminated. The tournament began last Monday, with 32 teams in the competition. The Matadors drew Mission Bay as their first opponent, racking up a 3-0 win behind the two-hit pitching of Tom Urban.

The game was a pitcher's duel for the first four innings before Tom Young, of Mount Miguel, cracked a two-run double in the fifth frame. The Matadors got one more run in the innings, providing Urban with a three-run margin.

On Tuesday, things got a little stickier, as the Matadors had to twice go into extra innings before advancing to the semi-finals.

In their first contest, the Matadors started freshman Steve Long, who shutout Morse for six innings before weakening in the seventh.

After six frames, Mount Miguel led 3-0, but before reliever John Pannell could retire the side in the seventh, the game was knotted 3-3.

In the top of the eighth, Miguel struck for three unearned runs after two were out, giving Pannell a three-run cushion. Pannell then finished up two runs in the bottom of the inning without allowing a run to gain the win.

Pannell started the second game for Mount Miguel Tuesday, holding Point Loma to three runs in eight innings.

The Mats drew first blood in the game, opening the first frame with a run. Pannell gave up two runs in the bottom of the inning, however, giving the Pointers a run advantage.

In the third inning, Mount Miguel came back to score a pair of runs to take the lead again, but the Pointers came back to tie it in their half of the frame.

The two pitchers then matched scoreless innings until the eighth, when Bob Gallagher singled and was advanced on another single. Mike Bruner then stepped into the box with two out and stroked a run-scoring single. Pannell held the Pointers scoreless in the bottom of the inning to gain another victory.

In the semi-final game held Wednesday, Tom Urban started on the mound for the local team, giving up five runs in the first four frames before reliever John Velasquez took over.

Velasquez was rocked for four more tallies in the sixth inning, giving the Hilltop Lancers a 9-0 lead.

The Cubs conclude their brief but bombastic stay this evening and then the Cardinals hardly docile themselves, camp here for the weekend.

The Padres won't be able to draw a deep breath before Walt Alston and his Dodgers boys starting tonight. Tuesday and Wednesday nights and continue what is blossoming into one of baseball's hottest rivalries.

"It just seems that when we play the Dodgers, anything can happen and usually does," said manager Preston Gomez, a former Dodger himself.

But before the Dodgers arrive, there's important business to be transacted with the Cubs and the Cards. Both teams have been somewhat of a problem for the Padres.

The Cards lost only once in San Diego Stadium last year and three times over two seasons. The Cubs have been even more impressive, dropping only two decisions here.

"We seem to run into good pitching when we face those clubs," Gomez said. "But the games have been close."

Bob Gibson, naturally, has performed heroics against San Diego. He has yet to be beaten by the Padres and last season accumulated four victories, including a nifty two-hitter.

He figures to work one of the games here this weekend, either Friday or Saturday nights or Sunday afternoon.

And there's a special treat for all youngsters attending Sunday's contest. They will receive a free Padre jigsaw puzzle which when assembled, reveals a picture of the entire Padre team and a scene of San Diego Stadium.

Since 1946 San Diego voters have voted overwhelmingly in favor of bond issues totaling $67 million to build water-supply pipelines.

Bank Income Listed

Southern California First National Corporation, a one-bank holding company headquartered in San Diego, reported first-quarter Income Before Securities Transactions of $1,065,426 or 33 cents a share — down 9 cents from last year.

The board declared a regular quarterly cash dividend of 17 1/2 cents a share, payable May 1 to shareholders of record April 20.

Music To Reign Over 'Renaissance Faire'

Visitors to Grossmont College's first Renaissance Faire will be able to enjoy music appropriate to the Renaissance period almost continuously during the four-day run of the pleasure faire scheduled to commence at 9 a.m., next Thursday.

Both instrumental and vocal ensembles will be featured during the faire. Instrumental consorts of recorders, krumphorns, gambas, sackbuts, cornets, lutes and an array of fanciful percussion instruments will recreate the musical sights and sounds of the Renaissance period.

The Grossmont College Brass Choir will open the Faire with a consort in the administration quad. The twelve members of the Brass Choir, directed by Charles MacLeod, Grossmont College Music Department, will be in costumes appropriate to the time.

The San Diego State College Collegians, under the direction of Robert B. Forman, will perform at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Friday on outdoor platforms. The instrumental extravaganza will be climaxed when the Robert Clements pro musical consort performs at 3 p.m. on an outdoor platform and again at 8 p.m., in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall.

A quartet from the College's Brass Choir plus the Silvergate consort, will highlight Saturday's instrumental music.

Also performing on Saturday will be a brass quintet led by Steve Foster and Karl Fitch, San Diego State College. The quintet will play Tower Music of the middle ages collected by Fitch while a graduate student at San Diego State College.

Three performances by the University of California, Riverside Collegians, under the direction of Dr. Frederick Gable will be featured on Sunday, April 25. The Motley Consort, a group of students from the University of Southern California will perform on instruments of the Renaissance, including a nine-foot trumpet.

Madrigal singing, a favorite recreation of both the peasantry and Renaissance nobility, with its spring time gaiety, will include the Grossmont College Music Department, the San Diego State College Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Dr. John Sheldon and the Old Globe Madrigal group. Frand Ritter, troubadour-in-residence will sing Shakespearean sonnets, unaccompanied.

The combination of vocal and instrumental music will assure faire visitors a resplendent menu of Renaissance music during the run of the faire. The public is invited to join Grossmont College in festive celebration as it recreates the sights, sounds, and spirit of the Renaissance.

They will head a cast of 115 amateur skaters in the local club's annual show, sanctioned by the U. S. Figure Skating Association.

Scenes in the production, featuring group, pair and individual performances, are based on movies and Broadway shows, including "Oliver," "Doctor Doolittle," "Mame," "Darling Lili," and "Applause."

Show times are 2 p.m. Sunday, April 25, and 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 26.

'Time Machine' Is College Film Planned Tonight

Grossmont College will continue its Science-Fiction Film Series when "The Time Machine" is screened at 7:30 p.m. April 15, in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall. Adapted from H. G. Wells' novel, "The Time Machine" stars Rod Taylor, Yvette Mimieux, Alan Young and Tom Helmore.

The film concerns the invention of a time machine. The inventor, Rod Taylor, explains it to friends who find the invention hard to believe. To prove his point and the validity of the time machine, the inventor undertakes a journey into the infinity of the fourth dimension.

He relieves World War I, the bombing of London in 1940, and the Global War of 1966. He continues his journey into the year 802,701. Displeased with what he finds, he attempts to change the people and their living conditions. He returns to the year 1900 to explain his travels to his doubting friends but realizes to satisfy himself, he must return to 802,701.

The public is invited to view this award-winning film based on the story by science-fiction writer H. G. Wells. The price of admission is 50 cents, with tickets available at the door.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Every good school board candidate's ethical standard should be, "No campaign money from teachers or administrators whom you will be called upon to make objective decisions as to their salaries, promotions, and fringe benefits". This is my belief and is what I practiced when I ran for the Grossmont College Board two years ago.

I was terribly shocked to learn that College Board members Portia Goode, Karl Tuttle, Paul Epler, and George Birch had, in my opinion, compromised their position of public trust by accepting money from the very people the Board was to make impartial decisions about.

To me, it was shocking to find out that Portia Goode sat on the Board to decide who would be the next Grossmont College President, when E. F. Metzger, her close friend and campaign donor, was selected for the post over other applicants.

It was interesting to me to find out that Portia Goode does not see anything wrong with accepting contributions from people who she would eventually be called upon to judge in an objective way.

What chance does a well-qualified independent candidate have nowadays for the non-paying position of school board trustee when he is up against school personnel money and influence?

College Board Seat Sought by Donald Meloche

Donald L. Meloche (malosh), 42, an attorney in the El Cajon law firm of Linley, McDougal, Meloche and Murphy, is seeking election to the Grossmont College board for several reasons.

A major one is to ensure that Grossmont does not become a haven for secondary purpose education "students" against the will of taxpayers. "A well rounded education is to be desired," Meloche said, "but a community college has two primary purposes: one is to prepare high school students for further education in a four year college, and to provide vocational training. All other pursuits are secondary."

Students should not be allowed to repeatedly enter into a course and withdraw without good reason and thereby receive a "W". By this action he deprives other students of the opportunity of obtaining a class which he would desire and satisfactorily complete, Meloche said.

"Taxpayers should not be forced to pay for secondary purpose education against their will. If they want it they should be willing to pass bond issues for that purpose," he said.

To help Meloche present this, and other of his education philosophies, Mrs. Lynn McDougal held a "coffee" for Meloche Tuesday night at her home.

Invited were Messrs. and Meses: Jim Culver, Bill Cook and LeRoy Knutson, of La Mesa; Roy Clayton, Dick Brown, Frank Thornton, Frank Eckis and Richard Vowles, of El Cajon.

Dale Willey and R. J. Collette, Lemon Grove, and Ron Croat, Esq., Spring Valley.

Meloche is married, has three children. He was an evening professor at City College 1958 - 1969.

He served 6½ years in the County District Attorney's office before entering private practice.

He served in the Marine Corps 1952-1955 and obtained his law degree at U. of Colorado Law school in 1956.

This is one reason, I believe, the schools are getting so far out of reach of public opinion and public control—the school board members are being partially bought off by school administrators and teacher campaign donations.

Many people have asked who I am supporting. There are many fine independent candidates running. However, I am voting for Adela Hatherill and Col. Fred Stevers for the College Board and Ed Miller and Charles Barnett for the High School Board.

Waldo Clark
El Cajon

Dear Editor:

Thank you for publicizing the Business Women's League of Lemon Grove's activities and their Plaza Beautification bowling league's winners.

We know that the advance meeting dates and other activities publicized have stimulated interest and attendance during my terms as Press chairman in 1969-71, and co-chairman in 1968-69.

Gulls Return Here Saturday In Playoffs

The San Diego Gulls return home Saturday to continue their quest for victory in the Lester Patrick playoff series. Semifinal winner will be the best in seven games between San Diego and the Portland Buckaroos.

The Gulls split the first two games in Portland—winning the series opener, 3-2, on Wednesday night, and losing, 3-1, on Saturday night—and then returned to San Diego and won a thrilling 5-4 overtime game. The Gulls, with mediocre defense, dropped Tuesday night's game 5-2 in spite of the absence of two back stars, Connie Madigan and Rick Foley who were suspended following Sunday's game. Foley was set down for two games while Madigan drew an indefinite suspension that may run well into next season.

Earl Heiskala broke up Sunday night's game with a goal at 19:00 of the first overtime period. The teams had thrown the game wide-open in the overtime, with Gull goalie Jack McCartan making 14 saves and Jim McLeod 15 in the extra period.

Portland's Andy Heberton has four goals in the series—one in each of the first four games.

Gull goaltender Jack McCartan and right winger Bob Courcy were voted to the Western Hockey League All-Star team by their fellow WHL players.

It was the second year in a row that McCartan had been named to the first team.

Center Gerry Goyer was voted to the second team, and left winger Al Nicholson was chosen on the third team.

Joining McCartan and Courcy on the first team were defensemen Rick Foley of Portland and John Hanna of Seattle, center Art Jones of Portland and left wing Andre Hinse of Phoenix.

Spring Valley Puppet Lady Breeds Medical First: Phick-Chicks

The Puppet Lady of San Diego may soon become known as the "Phicken Lady."

Marie Hitchcock, of 3002 Helix st., Spring Valley, became known as San Diego's official Puppet Lady in 1963 when Mayor Charles Dale gave her the title.

One of her hobbies is giving puppet shows for children, which has made her quite famous in the area. However, her other hobby may make her quite famous in the biological world.

Mrs. Hitchcock started giving puppet shows 22 years ago. She started raising foul 18 years ago, collecting six hens to supply her family with eggs.

Since then she has collected numerous puppets and over 100 chickens, geese, and pheasant. She also has four "phick-ens", a crossbreed between a ring-necked pheasant and a chicken.

Last Sunday, the third of three "phick-chicks" hatched, bringing about astonishment to the world of science which said it was impossible.

The "phick-chick" is a cross between a "phicken", which in itself is a rarity, and a chick-en.

The whole concept can be quite confusing, unless stated as simply as possible. Following is Mrs. Hitchcock's recipe for "phick-chicks":

Mate a ring-necked pheasant with a chicken, a tough task, but quite possible.

Mate the offspring of the above with another chicken, a very fough task, and until last week, impossible.

Science has known how to follow the recipe for some time, but the results have never materialized. Scientists have come up with "phickens", the result of the first step, but have found that the "hybird" birds have been unable to re-produce.

Mrs. Hitchcock, who has a mind of her own and is not afraid to tamper with the recipe, put a new twist to the formula and came up with a foul first.

The first thing she did was reverse the first step, crossing a male chicken with a female pheasant, instead of mating the female chicken and male pheasant.

That process, in itself, was a "first". Mrs. Hitchcock had one thing balancing the odds a bit more in her favor, however. She completed her task in a more "natural" environment than biologists.

She insists that reproduction in a chicken coop is much better than in a laboratory, and that "the only way to observe animals" is in a natural situation.

She is in an excellent position to give that opinion, too, as she is the only person to ever come up with a fertile phicken.

Of course, it wasn't easy getting a phicken and a chicken to mate, even in the most natural conditions, she said. To begin with, it took well over 300 eggs to get eight original phickens, four of which she gave to San Diego State College.

With four phickens left — two cocks and two hens — she proceeded to put her phickens

HE'S KOOKY — Marie Hitchcock, Spring Valley's 'Puppet Lady' as she talks to her macaw, "Kooky" who is the star of Mrs. Hitchcock's non-puppet show. Mrs. Hitchcock gives several shows each week, using her puppets as well as Kooky to entertain school children throughout the county.

M. T. Blalock Services Set

Funeral services have been scheduled for tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the Lemon Grove United Church of Christ Congregational, for Mrs. Mary T. Blalock, 58, of 1781 Dupont dr., Lemon Grove, who died Tuesday at her home following a long illness.

Interment for the lifetime San Diego County resident will be in Mt. Hope Cemetery. Cypress View Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Blalock attended Logan Elementary School, where one of her teachers was Mabel O'Farrell, for whom O'Farrell Junior High School has been named. She also attended San Diego High.

She served as chaplain, first vice president and president of the North Island American Legion Auxiliary, as well as legislative chairman and education scholarship chairman for the La Mesa American Legion Auxiliary.

She is survived by her husband, Homer L.; two sons, Charles of San Diego and Homer L., Jr., of Lemon Grove; daughters Rosemary Anderson of San Diego, and Eve L. Finghame; sister Tonnie Seay of Los Angeles; brother Nicholas Gonzales of San Diego; and two grandsons.

Meanwhile, State College lost their phickens.

But her phicken cocks, one named "Mission Impossible", refused to bother with the phicken hens, Hopeless and Poor Thing.

Mission Impossible did strike up a liking for a couple of chickens, however, named Mame X and Little Orphan Annie. Between the three, 143 eggs were produced, including three that were fertile.

Along with her phickens, chickens, phick-chicks, and geese, Mrs. Hitchcock is the proud owner of a bright red macaw named Kooky, who stars in his own shows for children.

Kooky, whose beak could easily take off a finger if he chose to be in a bad mood, is five years old and enjoys showing off and watching television while laying on his back.

Mrs. Hitchcock travels to schools to give her puppet shows and parrot shows for youngsters. Her shows carry an educational as well as entertaining message.

With Kooky, she helps youngsters understand that animals must be handled with kindness and consideration.

Additionally, Edward Miller, broker, of La Mesa; Robert Bates, governing board member of El Cajon Valley District, of El Cajon; William Dickinson, manufacturer, of La Mesa; and Kenneth Whitcomb, dentist, of La Mesa.

Rounding out the list are Edwin Svendsen, minister, of La Mesa; and Maren Heubach, teacher, of La Mesa.

Six candidates will vie for two seats on the Jamul-Las Flores Board. They are:

Vandal Di Giacinto, accountant, of Spring Valley; John Hendrik, federal law officer, of Jamul, and Duane G. Norton, firefighter, of Jamul.

Also, WILLIAM BRINK, incumbent and president of the board, of Jamul; LEON FINNERTY, appointed incumbent of Spring Valley; and Lynda Van Norman, graduate student-tutor, of Jamul.

Five candidates have filed intentions to run for two seats on the La Mesa-Spring Valley District Board. They are:

Robert E. Sunbury, machinist, of Brookside; WILLIAM THOMPSON, dentist, of La Mesa; and R. Joseph Angelo, psychologist, of La Mesa.

Also MELVIN NUNN, engineering mgr., of Spring Valley; and Gene Stone, administrator services mgr., of Spring Valley.

PHICKEN — Marie Hitchcock displays one of her phickens, named Mission Impossible. Impossible made biological history recently, mating with a chicken to produce three "phick-chicks." Impossible, one of four phickens Mrs. Hitchcock bred, is a cross between a ring-necked pheasant and a chicken.

Mortuary Here Wins Golden Rule Award Second Straight Year

Conrad, Lemon Grove Mortuary, 7387 Broadway, has been notified of acceptance into the Order of the Golden Rule for the second straight year.

The Order is a world-wide association which screens funeral director-applicants on an impartial basis. Acceptance is contingent upon proof that the applicant meets high ethical and professional standards.

Membership is not automatically renewable, as a firm must undergo intensive re-investigation every year.

There are currently more than 1,400 Order of the Golden Rule affiliates throughout the world.

In announcing the Conrad firm's reacceptance, a spokesman for the Order said:

"The Order was organized over 40 years ago with the highest of purposes. It was the goal of the founders to have a funeral director-members throughout much of the world who provide the kind of service which merits public confidence."

'Way Off' Dancer Given Citation

In the audience was this cop, see?

A slim, trim miss was dancing.

She was nude but she didn't dance so good either.

The "party-pooper" didn't even wait to see all the act; he cited Christine Byerly, 22, of San Diego under section 21.284.8 of the county entertainment code which suggests dancers are not necessarily more entertaining even if they take off their shoes all the way up to their Adam's Apple.

The dance was being performed in Lemon Grove's newest nitery: "The Naughty Spot", at 7268 Broadway. Until recently the place was called "The Bikini" and the sign was intentionally attached to the building upside down.
